

As an artist and fashion designer, it is Zyi's mission to help people know that their self-expression is free from gendered boundaries. Working within a variety of mediums from painting and digital art, to garment construction and jewelry, they have a diverse portfolio.

They are the founder of ZYI Neutral, a wearable art business focusing on sustainable gender neutrality. As a non-binary artist, they want to help people know that not only the hand-painted, up-cycled pieces they are creating are one of a kind, but so are the people wearing them.
